ECLIPSES FOR THE YEAR 1909.

In this year there will be four eclipses, two of the Sun and two of the Moon.

I. The first is a total eclipse of the Moon, June 3d, partly visible, the moon rising eclipsed. By Eastern standard time: Total eclipse begins, 7 o'clock, 58 min.; middle of eclipse, 8 o'clock, 29 min; total eclipse ends, 9 o'clock, 0 min; Moon leaves shadow, 10 o'clock, 14 min.; Moon leaves penumbra, 11 o'clock, 21 min.

II. The second is a central eclipse of the Sun—annular at its beginning and ending, and total in the middle—June 17th; visible throughout the United States as a partial eclipse, the sun setting shortly after the eclipse begins.

III. The third is a total eclipse of the Moon, November 27th; visible throughout the United States as follows, by Eastern standard time:

Moon enters penumbra, 1 o'clock, 12 min., morning.
Moon enters shadow, 2 o'clock, 11 min., morning.
Total eclipse begins, 3 o'clock, 14 min., morning.
Middle of eclipse, 3 o'clock, 55 min., morning.

Total eclipse ends, 4 o'clock, 36 min., morning.
Moon leaves shadow, 5 o'clock, 38 min., morning.
Moon leaves penumbra, 6 o'clock, 38 min., morning.

Angles of position of contacts of shadow with Moon's limb: first, 58° E; last, 91° W; from North point.

IV. The fourth is a partial eclipse of the Sun, Dec. 12th, invisible in the United States, visible in Tasmania, New Zealand and over the Antarctic Ocean.

The calculations for this Almanac have been carefully made for the latitude of Philadelphia and are expressed in Eastern standard time. For places not on the standard meridian, and where standard time is kept, the following rule applies: For places west of 75th meridian, add in the proportion of four minutes for each degree of difference of longitude; for places east, subtract four minutes. For moon's phases, eclipses, equinoxes and solstices, simply reduce from Eastern to the required standard.

WE WILL NOT PASS THIS WAY AGAIN.

Another year with its record is closed. A new year with all its opportunities to do good lies before us. Happy will they be who grasp these to serve the Church and Her Lord. The timely services, the ready gifts—do not neglect them. We will not pass this way again. To all who see these pages may the Lord make this a Happy and Blessed Year!

MARK THE DAYS.

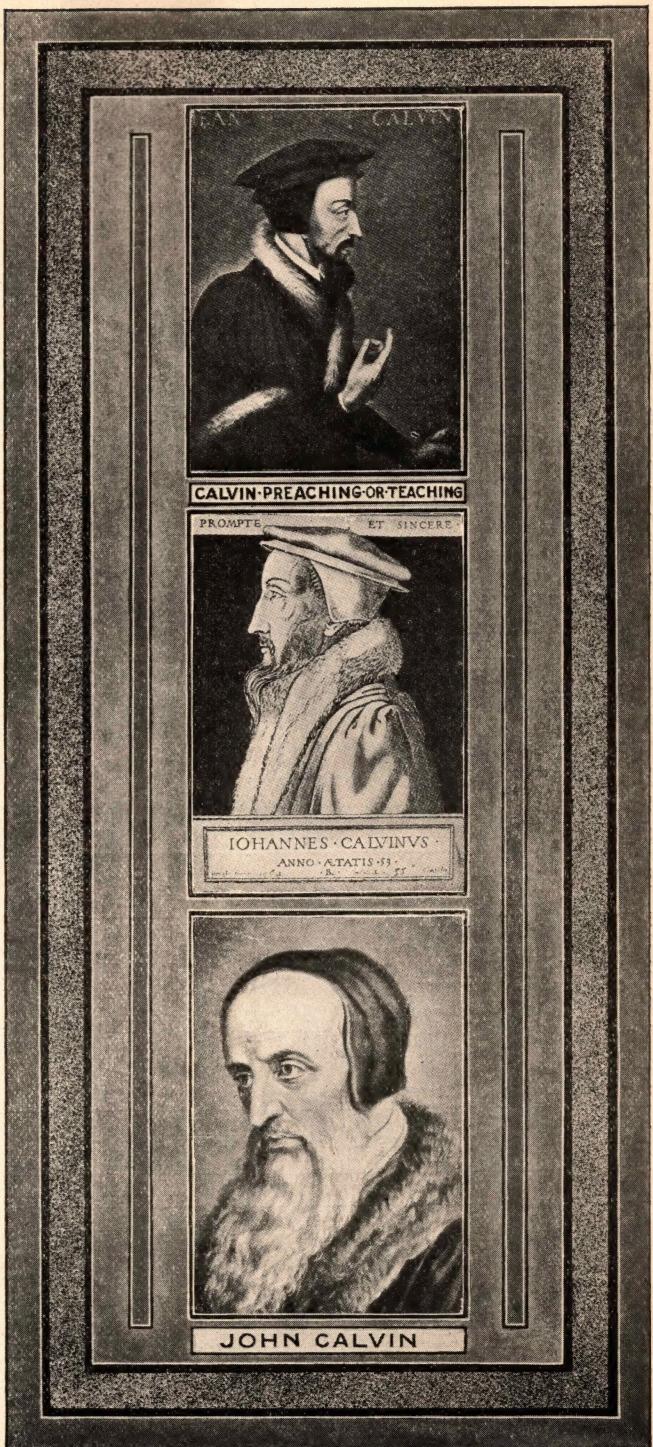

If you do not, they will be upon you before you are aware, and will find you unprepared for their proper observance. Note, besides Good Friday, Easter, Ascension Day, Whitsunday, these: "Messenger Sunday and Good Literature Day," second Sunday in January; "Foreign Mission Day," second Sunday in February; "Children's Day," second Sunday in June; "Calvin Memorial Day," second Sunday in July; "Seminary Day," first Sunday in September; and "Home Mission Day," second Sunday in November.

NEW CONSTITUTION.

At the General Synod in session at York, May, 1908, the new Constitution adopted by the General Synod at Allentown in 1905 and sent down to the Classes for approval, the Classes having almost unanimously taken favorable action, was declared to be the law of the Church. And now inasmuch as the government of the Reformed Church is democratic and representative government, a copy of this Constitution should be in the hands not only of every minister, elder and deacon, but it should find its way into every home of the Church. It may be had of the Reformed Church Publication Board, Fifteenth and Race Streets, Philadelphia, Pa.

WHERE THE MONEY COMES FROM.

Nearly all our special offerings for church work come from people who read the church papers. These people know what the church needs. The church paper is the educator of the people. What can you expect from a people who know little or nothing about the work of the church? They may be good people in private life, but how can they feel any interest in the great work of the church of which they know so little? The pulpit gives us the gospel of faith; and the church paper gives us the gospel of work. One of the greatest misfortunes of a Christian child is to grow up in a home that has no church paper, and the large number of such homes clearly accounts for the large number of Christian men and women who do so little for the advance of the kingdom of Christ in the world.

THE CALVIN MEMORIAL.

On July 10, 1909, four hundred years ago, John Calvin first saw the light of day. Our Church, together with the other members of the Reformed family, will during the year pay an honorable tribute to him who in many ways directly and indirectly influenced her for good. For, while we call no man master and bear no man's name, yet we honor Calvin for his great and good work, and we remember that Ursinus and Olevianus, the framers of the Heidelberg Catechism, were taught of him. Calvin was the great scholar, the exegete, the systematic theologian of Protestantism. He was a friend of educational religion, the author of a form of public worship churchly and yet beautiful in its simplicity; an advocate of discipline and order in the church; a champion of civic righteousness in the state. Through his mighty personality he stamped his high ideals on church and state in his day. Their influence is felt to this day, not only in the Reformed church of Europe and America, but in the free states of both hemispheres. His imperfections were due in great measure to physical infirmities and to the spirit of the times. His great services are worthy of emulation on our part. It was very fitting, therefore, that the General Synod, in session at York in May, 1908, recommended that Sunday, July 12, 1909, or some other suitable Sunday, be set apart as Calvin Memorial Day."

John Calvin was born July 10, 1509, at Noyon, France, of good family, French on his father's side, German on his mother's. He was educated at the Universities of Paris, Bourges and Orleans, where he mastered the law and the classic languages. After a great spiritual struggle he became a champion of the ideas of the Reformation, and her greatest theologian.

At the age of 25 he issued the "Institutes," then a small volume, and which, after passing through many revisions and enlargements, became a great historic document. Its preface was a defense of Protestantism, and in form was a dignified and respectful letter to the King of France. He became an exile for the faith. But in Geneva he found his divinely chosen work. But that is a part of history, which should be restudied anew this year by the ministers and members of the Reformed Church. A handy volume, which does justice to Calvin's memory without falling into the error of partisan praise, is the one found in the series known as "Heroes of the Reformation," by Prof. Williston Walker. From it the pictures on this and adjoining pages are taken.

THE COLLEGE AT GENEVA BEFORE ITS RESTORATION.

CALVIN'S CROWNING WORK.

John Calvin, like the other Reformers, had a statesmanlike breadth of view. He believed in pure teaching and thorough discipline, but none the less in religious education. His crowning work at Geneva was the founding of the Academy, from which went out in great numbers young men who carried his ideas of the Christian life and of the Christian commonwealth all over Europe. Now as then the college and the seminary must receive our loyal and enthusiastic support. Now as then the supreme need of the Church is more men for the ministry.

LARGER THINGS.

As a church we need to do larger things. God has given us a great inheritance of opportunity. From a few thousand our church has grown to be almost 300,000 communicant members. Our people to-day have much wealth, and surely God expects larger things from us than was possible in the days of our fathers. From a few English missions the number has grown to over one hundred, and for lack of men and means the Board must repeatedly refuse to enroll very promising fields. Brethren, having a larger membership, larger wealth and larger demands, we need to have also larger thoughts and desires, larger plans and hopes, yea above all we need larger hearts, and we should pray for these things rather than for the coming of the kingdom in its outward form. Our home missionary work never before was so large, it never was more prosperous, it never was more promising, and the Reformed Church in the United States has before her a wide open door of usefulness which she should promptly enter in the name of the Lord, a great work to be done with a mighty hand and with larger gifts of men and money.

OUR DANGER POINT.

When you read that 1,200,000 foreigners have come to the United States each year for some years, do you know what that means? It means 100,000 every month, 25,000 every week, 4,000 for every working day of the year, eight congregations of 500 each, if all were churched. It means also that unless the Christian Church will make good citizens of these people, they will become the dangerous elements in our national life. We face the problem of assimilating over sixty different races and nationalities. Our church has her share of responsibility in this work of assimilation, and our home missionary work is part of the process.

Superintendent of the Board of Home Missions.

BETHANY, YORK, PA., REV. GEORGE S. SORBER.

TIPTON, IOWA, REV. JOHN N. NALY.

TWO MISSION CHURCHES WHICH BECAME SELF-SUPPORTING IN 1908.

THE CALL OF THE CITY.

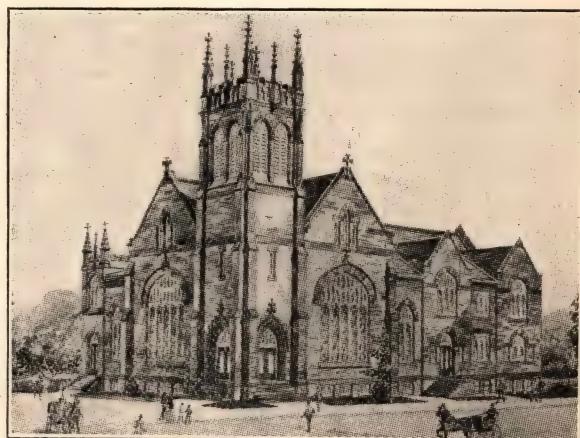

Twenty-five years ago 20 per cent. of our population lived in cities; now 40 per cent. live there. Then the population was homogeneous; now it is heterogeneous. Then our cities were fairly well churched; now the church touches but a fraction of the city's life. The challenge to the church of to-day is the city, and we have not a century but only a generation in which to meet it. The destiny of our American Republic will be largely determined by the solution of this problem. The city must be saved, and only the Christian Church can save it. Therefore our missions in such large measure are located in the centers of population.

WOMAN'S WORK.

During the last three years the Woman's Missionary Society of General Synod paid for home missions about $12,000, including nearly $1,700 for church building. At the same time, with their fathers, husbands and sons, they have contributed to her general work, through the regular channels; and the amount noted above is but a fraction of what our mothers, wives and sisters have done for Home Missions.

THE General Synod has ordered that Septuagesima Sunday of each year be set apart as a day of special prayer for Home Missions, and that the pastors shall observe the day by preaching sermons on the claims of Home Missions.

OUR home missionaries are capable, faithful and self-sacrificing. Many of them are doing such heroic service as deserves the larger sympathy and support of the Church.

ENTRANCE TO GIRLS' SCHOOL COMPOUND, SENDAI, JAPAN.

OUR FOREIGN MISSION WORK.

Our Church has made a splendid record during the time of her foreign missionary activity. Six years ago we had only 18 missionaries in Japan and China; now we have 51. Then we had few buildings; now we have school, hospital and church buildings valued at $250,000.00. We should ever be thankful to God for the part He has given us in the evangelization of Japan and China. The location of our work is in the most open, the most urgent, and the most momentous missionary fields in the world to-day. Anyone who has made a study of the equipment of our missions knows that our missionaries are now ready to do their most effective work. Let us give them our sympathy and help.

The Industrial Home at Sendai makes it possible for poor young men to acquire a Christian education. There is need for better equipment.

The Annuity Bond is the safest way of giving to the cause of Foreign Missions. The Board pays an annuity during the lifetime of the donor. The investment is safe. The interest is sure. Write to the Secretary for a sample bond.

Let every congregation observe Foreign Mission Day on February 14th, and use the service issued by the Board. Only when our people are brought into touch with the fields ripe unto harvest will they go forth as reapers.

STUDENTS OF THE GIRLS' SCHOOL, YOCHOW, CHINA.

As the oldest nation in the world, China presents the largest field for the work of the Church.

Fifteen of the girls in our school at Yochow City have received baptism. Under the influence of Christian teachers their lives are being transformed like unto Christ.

The new church at Shenchow is a model of neatness and comfort. With the exception of about $400 given by Chinese and foreigners, the building stands as a memorial to the liberal spirit of Dr. William Kelly. See page 21.

There are so many places in our mission field in Japan where the small congregations should have chapels. Look at the groups of worshipers on another page pleading for help. They will in time help others. Will not individuals erect these chapels?

There is no more popular plan for an intelligent study of Missions than the Mission Study Class. Mission study will lead each member of the class to feel the world's need of Christ, and to realize his own responsibility as a Christian. The study of Missions broadens one's outlook, gives instruction on the progress of the Kingdom, and increases one's appreciation of the blessings of Christianity.

No interest in Missions betrays either woeful ignorance or wilful disobedience.

We can not serve God and Mammon, but we can serve God with Mammon.

The greatest need on the foreign field is a deeper consecration in the Church at home.

Indifference to Missions is the worst kind of treason. Enthusiasm for Missions is the measure both of our faith in Christ and of our love for man.

If the Lord's prayer for the coming of the kingdom, until God's will is done on earth as it is in heaven, is not simply a form of sound words, but the divine program, it is time for us, not only to unite in its utterance, but to have sufficient faith in God and man to join hands for its execution.

Did you ever hear it said: "I do not believe in Missions." "They are too far away." "There is so much to be done at home?"

If that had been the belief in the early church, Christianity would never have gotten beyond Palestine, and we to-day would be heathen.

BOALSBURG, PA. REV. A. A. BLACK.

A SACRED CAUSE.

Every church should take up an offering each year for the support of our aged and disabled ministers. The Reformed Church has always recognized her obligation to support her sons who faithfully served her at small salaries. The new constitution recognizes this work and commends it to the people. There are two societies, through either of which the churches or individuals can send their gifts: "The Society of Relief of Ministers and Their Widows," organized in 1775 and of which Rev. S. S. Miller, 42 East Third Street, Frederick, Md., is treasurer; and "The Board of Ministerial Relief," organized by General Synod in 1905, and of which Rev. J. M. Schick, D.D., is treasurer.

CALVIN MEMORIAL DAY

WILL BE CELEBRATED IN THE REFORMED CHURCH

ON SUNDAY, JULY 11, 1909.

READ THE LIFE OF

JOHN CALVIN, the Organizer of Reformed Protestantism (1509-1564.)

By WILLISTON WALKER, Titus Stout Professor of Ecclesiastical History in Yale University.

FULLY ILLUSTRATED

Prof. Walker's biography is the result of many years' study of the sources. His work will be found accurate, comprehensive and written in agreeable style. He has not attempted to exhaust the subject, for that would be impossible within the limits assigned to him, but he has brought out very clearly the interesting points in Calvin's life, especially those points which have been recently under discussion, namely, the conversion of Calvin and his relation to Servetus. Attention should be called to the illustrations; they have been collected with great care, and give the geographical setting in which Calvin's life was passed.

Price, $1.35 net.
